Editorial

Everyone would no doubt recall the World Masters Games held in Brisbane two years ago and remember how much of a success they were. In fact some of you probably joined in and competed.

The 1994 World Masters Games attracted more than 23,000 competitors, 700 of which were participants in the soccer competition.

Two years on and nominations are now being called for the 1996 Malanda Queensland Masters Games to be held on the Gold Coast during the week of October 27 to November 3.

Organisers are expecting in excess of 6,000 competitors to grace the sporting fields of the Gold Coast in 23 different sports.

To complement the sporting competitions there will be a number of official Games functions ranging from a Beach Party to a Cocktail Party and Gala Ball.

The Gold Coast and Albert Soccer Federation is organising the soccer competition for this year's Games and is confident of providing a competitive but fun competition with the emphasis placed primarily on comradeship, friendship and participation.

The competition is open to men aged 35 years and over and women aged 30 and over, and already expressions of interest have been received from teams in Papua New Guinea, New Zealand and right throughout Australia.

It's great to see that the interest for this year's Masters Games is already high, but it means that some teams will have to get a shuffle on if they would like to be a part of the competition.

To get involved in the 1996 Malanda Queensland Masters Games contact the Games Office on (07) 5581 6052 to obtain an entry form.

I'm sure if you asked anyone who competed in the World Masters Games two years ago they would be quick to point out how good a time they had and how worthwhile the experience was. Don't miss out on this opportunity.

As a spectator at our recent game at Rochedale Rovers, we were to lose against undoubtedly a very talented team, but to our players you can hold your heads high.

After the game we all moved into the clubhouse where the Rochedale President deservedly congratulated Stein Grodum in his Testimonial Year.

He is a credit to Eastern Suburbs and Queensland soccer, although the President had great difficulty in pronouncing his name.

Then in no uncertain terms we were wished good luck for the rest of the season as we would be playing Second Division soccer next year.

No, we might not have the so called glamour and resources of Rochedale Rovers, but what we do have is pride and respect, words which seemingly Rochedale do not have and will never understand.

In hindsight, I think Rochedale Rovers' President would be much more suited to the role of their club mascot, the "Pirate!"

Eastern Suburbs Supporter

You weren't the only person complaining about the comments made by Mr Millward last week. One can only assume public relations is not one of his strengths. Ed

Rocklea dogs Bulldogs

Reece is up! That battle cry rang out loud and clear in the Division 2 clash at Rocklea last Friday night.

In a tremendous display of skilled soccer, Capalaba turned in a performance which had the ladder leaders reeling.

Reece James dominated defence in the air and with Terry Henry and Robbie Ashcroft, ensured that most Rocklea shots at goal were well wide of the target.

Action rolled from end to end as each team launched counter attack after counter attack.

Despite their home ground advantage, Rocklea was hard pressed to hold the confident Bulldogs.

Capalaba's grip on the midfield had the Rocklea defence badly rattled in the first half and had they been able to finish off any one of their attacking forays they would have demoralised the opposition.

Against the run of play, Rocklea scored when Vedran Bacirbegovic's pass to Mark Luburic was sent accurately for Anthony Cule to put away.

But Capalaba were playing so well they seemed to have every chance of pulling the game back.

Communication between John Quinn and the fast improving Cosi La Frentz was outstanding, and Quinn's work on the wing caused Rocklea no end of trouble.

Rocklea keeper Elvis Guzic had a fine game but was far from impressed by the pressure his team mates put him under.

Simon Kalaba and Alan Prentice had full control of the midfield and Ashcroft played a blinder in defence.

Undoubtedly producing his best match so far this season, Ashcroft shattered most of the Rocklea attacks and set up strong counter attacks.

At the other end of the field Vince Kelly camped in the Rocklea 18 yard box, harassing the defence and forcing a number of corners.

Even James had the freedom to move up in attack and the Capalaba fans could not believe their bad luck when the final whistle blew on their 1-0 defeat. Story by Allan Watson

Brown's tour yields ideas

Queensland Academy of Sport Head Soccer Coach Greg Brown believes Australia is not far behind Europe in terms of successful elite youth development.

Brown has just returned from a four week tour of Europe, during which time he had the opportunity to examine the youth development schemes utilised by Manchester United, Chelsea, Club Brugge, the French Football Federation and Ajax Amsterdam.

And Brown recognised a number of common factors with all five organisations.

"Wherever I went, there was quality coaching at a young age, elite players were involved at all levels of the game and thirdly, emphasis was placed on technique and speed in the early years," Brown said.

"An obstacle that all organisations had to overcome, which is something that we must also look at in Australia, was that all of the players they were looking to develop, attended school, so coaches had very limited access to the kids.

"Most countries are addressing these problems. Some have overcome them and others are still trying. Those that haven't succeeded appear not to have a good relationship with the education authorities in their country.

"A country that has overcome the schooling obstacle is Holland, where kids are allowed to take time off school if they are going to receive specialist coaching from clubs like Ajax.

Peter Shreeves, Chelsea's Asssitant Manager with Brown at Chelsea's training ground

"Oo-Ah" Cantona and Greg Brown at Manchester United's training ground "The Cliff"

"This in turn means coaches can spend quality time with the kids, who still have time to do their homework and have a good meal and relax before going to bed, instead of getting home late after training and neglecting these other important areas of their development.

"In Australia, we aren't addressing any of these problems, but I believe there are ways around them."

The former Socceroo striker said he would be instigating some changes to the QAS program, following his European learning experience, but these would be very gradual.

"You can't just take raw ideas from these European clubs. The ideas must first be adjusted to the Australian culture." Brown said.

Brown is currently in the process of completing a full report on his European visit, which will be available to anybody on request.

The QAS coach will also be speaking at three Coaches Update evenings at Perry Park, as part of the new QSF coaching initiatives being introduced. He will discuss the training methods at Manchester United, Chelsea and Ajax on the evenings of June 10, 14 and 17.

Rivers rise to drown Thistle

Pine Rivers showed some rare form and gave an insight into their real potential as they dished out a 6-0 lesson to Grange Thistle at Wendy Allison Park last Friday night.

Sparked by the genius of Clayton Koch up front and a super performance from John Cartwright, Rivers were far too hot for a Thistle side that at times, were rather pedestrian.

The home side looked the goods from the kick-off and were unfortunate not to open the scoring after just five minutes when a perfectly weighted Koch corner was headed onto the upright by a flying Joel Hale.

Rivers continued to pressure Grange and finally broke through after 27 minutes.

Thistle defender Troy Schmidt pushed Koch in the back in the penalty area, right in front of referee Barry Power, who had no option but to award the spot kick, which proved to be a formality for Koch.

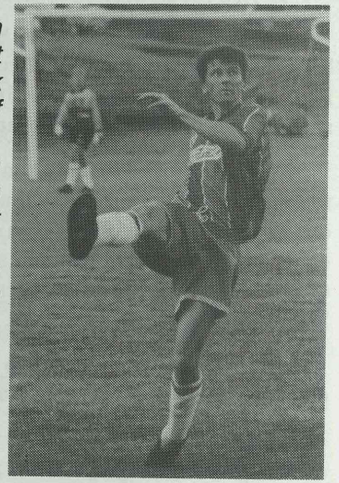
At the other end of the park, Thistle's forwards were subjected to a series of heavy challenges, Rivers defender Graham Eden fortunate not to be cautioned on several occasions.

The home side continued their dominance and went two goals up two minutes before the break with Hale combining on the right with John Preston, who sent a short cross for Cartwright to slot home at the near post.

Despite a lopsided free-kick count against the home side, Rivers methodically went about destroying the Thistle midfield and capitalising on what was at times a non-existent Grange defence.

Cartwright taunted the Thistle defence throughout the second half with a host of menacing runs from the back of the park down the right flank.

His persistence was rewarded again in the 57th minute when he worked his way into the box and rounded two defenders before slamming a shot from an acute angle, which was too powerful for Grange keeper Brett Beves.



John Cartwright took control of last Friday, nights match against Grange, scoring twice and creating numerous chances

Three goals down, Thistle tried to get back into the game with a couple of long range strikes from Ben Mannion and Danny Docherty, but could not beat the athleticism of Peter Underhill in the Rivers goal.

Koch came into his own in the closing stages, capitalising on the good work being done by Cartwright, to find the net on three more occasions.

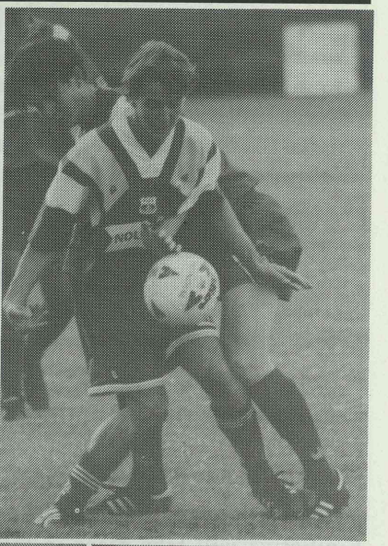
With 20 minutes of play remaining, Cartwright and Preston caught Thistle on the break, Cartwright crossing to Koch at the far post, who put away his second for the night.

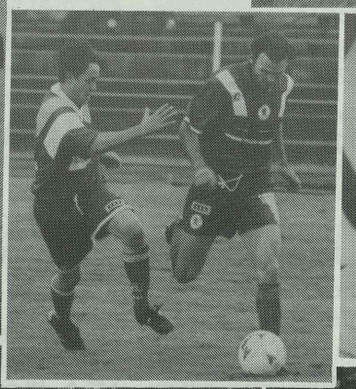
Koch made it 5-0 in the 83rd minute, the busy Cartwright evading a series of tackles to work his way into the box and draw Beves out before crossing to Koch to tap in.

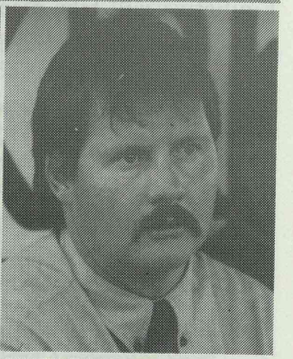
Three minutes before full-time, Cartwright involved himself again, sending replacement Dean Snell away on the right, who presented Koch with a copybook cross to allow the striker to slot home his fourth goal for the night. ❑

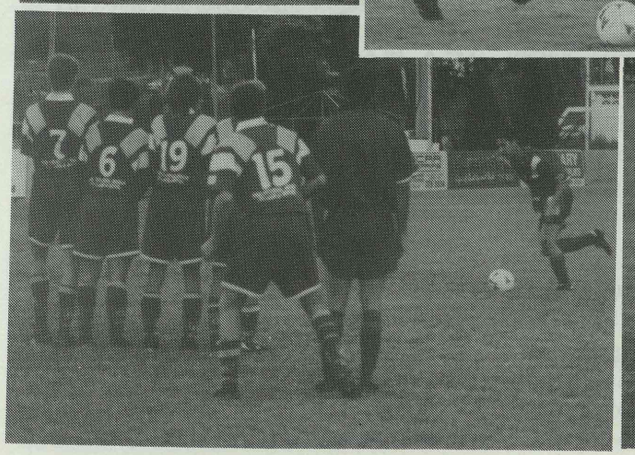
ACTION REPLAY

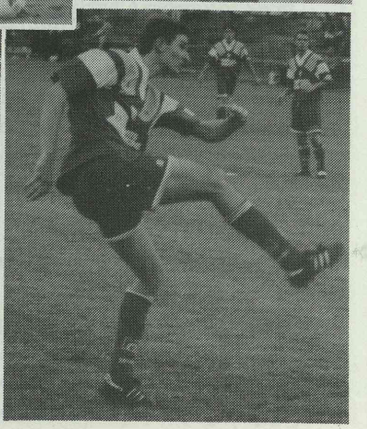
They may have lost 5-0 but North Star's youngsters never stopped trying. Star's Ben Dwyer got the better of Lions' Brett McPaul this time. Warren Allen got a goal and netted a free kick rather nicely, Cheetah Vosuga worked hard, Frank Mengotti ran the decoy at the wall and Chris Tribbeck had plenty to do in defence for North, while their Brendan Rogers worried Lions' Stephen Starr for most of the day. Sadly, North Star coach Michael McEvoy had few answers on the day.











Coaching news available

A new coaching magazine will commence publication next week, in one of three new initiatives of the Queensland Soccer Federation Development Program, under State Director of Coaching Peter Kelly.

Coaches Update Magazine will feature articles from around Australia and coaching information from both here and abroad, to ensure all coaches at all levels in Queensland can receive up to date coaching news.

The magazine is designed to assist aspiring coaches by improving their knowledge of the game, and will be available at the QSF offices via a $20 subscription for 12 months.

Further to the magazine, a second QSF initiative will take place in the form of Australian Coaching Council Updates.

These will take place on various nights throughout the year to help educate coaches from the grass roots level right up through to senior and elite levels.

By attending these nights, coaches will receive points towards retaining their coaching badge and will also improve their knowledge and expertise in coaching individuals and teams. Dates for these nights will be circulated to clubs throughout the State and will also appear in the Coaches Update Magazine.

Currently being set up is the third initiative, a 0055 number to access information on coaching courses, seminars, academies, coaching clinics, Strikers marketing, referee's courses and so forth, to ensure all involved in soccer throughout Queensland will be kept fully informed of all coaching events taking place in their region. ❑

Beenleigh big movers in IEA Fair Play Award

Wynnum have held their spot at the top of the IEA Fair Play Award table and have even put some distance between themselves and Brisbane Lions, with whom they shared the lead with at the last count.

Beenleigh are the big movers, rising up the ranks from 11th spot to 4th place, but the club has a couple of matches in hand and could quite easily slip right back to 8th with the table being so congested.

North Star have conceded quite a few cautions in the course of the season but to their credit, have just the one red card against their name. Pine Rivers are still languishing well behind the rest of the field, following their seemingly very undisciplined start to the season.

Injury time goal halts Wolves

A goal in injury time by Beenleigh striker Brett Druery sentenced the Wynnum Wolves to yet another agonising last minute loss on Saturday night, when the two sides met at Chris Green Park.

The teams were level at 1-1 when an attempted clearing punch from a corner fell to Druery on the penalty spot and the experienced marksman made no mistake.

The Wolves were off to a flying start after just four minutes when Geoff Maltby netted with a simple tap-in after Beenleigh keeper Chris Roche badly misjudged a corner from Tony McKinless.

Wynnum were by far the more purposeful of the two sides, but failed to convert their superiority into goals, in a first half which lacked the intensity expected of a clash between two sides in the top five.

Beenleigh gradually found their rhythm after the break and were unfortunate not to draw level, the woodwork denying both Craig Wass and Anthony Roche goals.

Ricky McKinless was denied a second goal for the Wolves when keeper Roche won out in a one-on-one situation.

The home side levelled the scores in the 67th minute with a classical goal on the break.

A clearance from a Wynnum corner found captain Marc Lederhose on the halfway line, the stocky midfielder beating two defenders before bending a superb shot past Kevin Tatton in the Wolves goal.

A collision between Beenleigh keeper Roche and Wynnum's Malcom Van Basten resulted in Roche being substituted, but he managed one more brilliant save to prevent Maltby from equalising before leaving the field.

Play fluctuated in the closing 20 minutes, before Druery's timely intervention for the home side to enable them to open a four point buffer over Wynnum for fourth spot.

Upsets highlighted the remaining matches in the XXXX League last weekend, with Eastern Suburbs surprise 2-0 winners at Coalstars, Pine Rivers thumping Grange 6-0, and Nerang holding Rochedale to a 1-1 draw.

At Spencer Park, Brisbane City hit top form again, knocking home four first half goals to set up their 4-2 victory over Taringa Rovers and Brisbane Lions thrashed North Star 5-0 at Lions Stadium. ❑

Before The Whistle

with Jim Gilbert

Oxley United, the strong First Division team of the 60's is a far cry from the Oxley United of the 1990's, but if the enthusiasm and keenness that I saw in Oxley's match last Friday at Cleveland is any criteria, then the club is fighting its way back from the doldrums it's found itself in the last few years.

The 1960 vintage team boasted many players of high credentials who played for Queensland, the 1990 team, whilst not exactly having representative material, did at least show that the players are proud of the famous red and white stripes that Oxley have worn for more years then some of us care to remember.

On a completely different note, I saw a top (or near enough) of the table clash in Division 4 at Lota last Saturday afternoon, with Bayside out to avenge their first round defeat to Southside Eagles. And despite changing their strip, (who said players aren't superstitious?), they still went down to a rampant Eagles side who took every chance that was put their way. In the first round Eagles won 3 - 2, and last Saturday they won 3 - 1. Again, this was a match that I thoroughly enjoyed with good football, good skills and a high percentage of good sportsmanship on both sides, and a match worthy of its top billing in this Division.

Certain sections of the soccer community appear to have taken offence at comments made in this column of late, and as has been said frequently in the past, the game is all about opinions. As it has been deemed imprudent to make, or give, any criticism to this section, so I shall not praise them either. All future comments in this column will purely relate to the clubs, their teams and their performances.

DIVISION 2

Albany Creek host Inala in a tight match, home club favoured, also on Saturday night Acacia Ridge at home to Rocklea, and a pointer to this match will be how the Ridge players stand up after their Qld Cup match on Wednesday. A score draw is likely, or even a home win. The remaining match between Capalaba and St Albans will be a severe tester for the home side, it still looks to be an away win though.

On Sunday Logan City visit The Gap, and one that they should not relish, the points likely to remain at Walton Bridge, St Helens drive to Willowburn, with both side's form of late being highly erratic, a narrow home win is on the cards, remaining match between Olympic and Mt Gravatt will be a fair cracker, both sides having very impressive form of late, but home side's defensive capabilities may see them through.

DIVISION 3

Matches this weekend are those washed out from the Labour Day weekend. First match takes place on Friday night between Redlands and Slacks Creek, who dropped their first points last weekend, could be a draw, more likely an away win. In the one day game on Saturday University should secure 3 points over Wests, remaining matches are at night with Clairvaux to not enjoy the visit of Darra, Goodna versus Mitchelton looks to be a fair battle, particularly after Goodna's last-start draw with leaders Slacks Creek, the question is can they do it again? Remaining match between Annerley and Souths should see the visitors victorious. Only one game on Sunday is a derby between Latrobe and Newmarket, with the visitors expected to retain the pressure at the top and take the three points.

DIVISION 4

The wooden spoon is at stake between Greenbank and Browns Plains, will this be the match in which the home side pick up their first points, I think not. Second place Moggill make the trip up the Jinker Track, and should return with the points, whilst Samford and Eagles do battle also on Saturday afternoon with the points to return to Bulimba. On Sunday, South Star should be untroubled with Ipswich City, Redcliffe will have a battle with North Pine and a score draw would not surprise, whilst Bayside will look to usurp Brothers from fourth spot.

DIVISION 5

Two games on Friday night should see the points remain with the home side, with Logan City to defeat Goodna, and Acacia Ridge to be too strong for University. On Saturday afternoon Bethania will be marginally better than Jimboomba, whilst Slacks Creek may well enjoy their visit to Ebbw Vale, remaining match on Sunday should see leaders The Gap retain top spot at the expense of Woodridge.

DIVISION 6

In the only match on Friday Redcliffe will return from the long haul to Runcorn leaving the points behind. On Saturday, Redlands will secure all points from their trip to Lota, Oxley will do it tough against Mitchelton, but should do enough to keep the points at Dunlop Park, but it will be much tighter at Dittmer Park when Albany Creek pay a visit, and it would not surprise to see the points return to Wolter Park.

In the Sunday games Park Ridge will ensure the pressure stays on top spot when they visit Mooroondu, however Margate will have a field day with lowly placed Annerley.

DIVISION 7

Uni to secure 3 points in the Saturday match over Clairvaux, with all remaining matches on Sunday. North Pine will take three points home from Darra, The Gap similarly should be victors over Newmarket, Samford will be too strong for Jimboomba, Margate will have a tough one against Kingsridge but should come up trumps and in the remaining match between Mooroondu and Park Ridge, the home side's better defence should see the three points remain at Thorneside.

DIVISION 8

Two matches on Friday, Rocklea (who dropped their first points last week) defeat Mitchelton, with Annerley to be not so fortunate with Redlands. On Saturday Bethania will be too good for Pine Hills, Inala will enjoy the short trip down the road to Dunlop Park. On Sunday Samford will retain fourth place at the expense of The Gap, and Acacia Ridge will get back to a positive goal difference over Albany Creek.

DIVISION 9A

Only one match on Friday should see Coalstars retain the points over Wynnum, on Saturday Rovers will increase their goal difference at the expense of Eastern Suburbs, whilst in the Sunday games Taringa will enjoy their visit to Beenleigh, and Brisbane Lions similarly will pick up three points over Grange.

DIVISION 9B

Most players will have a weekend off, as four of the five matches are played on Friday. Lions to defeat Park Ridge, and Coalstars to remain unbeaten after Wynnum have paid a visit, Wolves will be no match for Brisbane Lions, and Capalaba will retain equal first placing, although it will be tough, after Taringa have paid them a visit. The remaining match is on Saturday and should see Mt Gravatt defeat Slacks Creek.

WOMENS SOCCER

An injury-ridden Queensland Academy of Sport is struggling to find form after the first four fixtures and representative duties have not helped their cause either.

Eastern Suburbs and Brisbane City have been making the most of the QAS's misfortune, and while Easts have also had players away on representative duties, their experienced players have kept them in winning form.

After a somewhat ordinary start to the pre-season competition, City now look to have found form and are playing much more professional football.

Coalstars seem to be having trouble finding the necessary finish, while newcomers to the first division, Souths and Newmarket are improving from week to week.

Meanwhile, Brisbane's six representative sides are preparing for the State Titles to be held in Townsville from June 8-10.

As usual, the Queensland Junior team to contest the National Junior Titles at Southport from July 7-13, will be selected in Townsville, along with the squads for the Queensland Youth and Open teams.

QSF NOTICE BOARD - EXTRAS

■ With the school holidays fast approaching, an awful lot of up and coming talent will be on show at the various Talent Identification Series' around the State. The QJSC run U14's are in Mackay, U15's will play in Rockhampton and the joint QSF/QJSC U16 TIS is again in Bundaberg. No doubt club coaches will be making an extra effort to make it to the various TIS's, in their bids to scout for talent.

■ Has your club picked up its ticket books for the Art Union yet? This is one of the best and most acceptable fund-raising activities for clubs throughout the year. A minimum of effort is required by the clubs, but you must get your books quickly from QSF Treasurer Laurie Carwardine on 3356 3688, if you are to take full advantage of the Art Union.

■ A couple of gremlins in the Qantas Cup draw that appeared in the last edition of Eye On Soccer. The following matches will be played on Wednesday June 5, and not May 29 as published last week. Newmarket Div 3 v Latrobe Athletic and Beerwah Glasshouse v Ipswich City Div 4 at Mitchelton SC, Kingsridge Div 7 v Rovers Div 9A and Taringa Rovers Div 9A v Margate Div 6 at Redlands United SC, and Mt Gravatt Div 6 v North Star XXXX Youth at Acacia Ridge SC. Matches will kick-off at 6.30pm and 8.30pm respectively.

■ Two matches in the 1996 XXXX Queensland Cup also next Wednesday night June 5. Olympic United host the Sunshine Coast at 8.15pm and Rocklea United travel to Rochedale Rovers for a 7.30pm kick-off. The remaining matches in the first round of the XXXX Queensland Cup will be played over the following weekend of June 8-10.

■ The 1996 Miss Queensland Soccer Quest will be on us shortly and we are still yet to see contestants being promoted in this magazine. Maybe a gentle reminder from Club Secretaries will prompt ladies to send in their photos.

READ between the LINES

All the gossip with Brent Read

The annual clash with New South Wales for interstate dominance is on our doorstep, so players will be looking to capture their best form over the next few weeks to force their way into the Queensland squad for the upcoming series.

With National League players available, selector (s) face a quandary in picking the team. Most of the NSL players won't have played football for well over a month and their match fitness will more than likely be lacking.

There is, however, little doubt those players should dominate the squad. Players such as Alan Hunter and Graham Ross have never let the Maroon side down before, even when they've played under similar conditions.

On the local front, several players are in the form that would suggest they can make an impact at interstate level. Brisbane City and Rochedale would seem to be the sides set to dominate on the selection table, just as they've done at XXXX league level this year.

Craig Collins, Queensland soccer's answer to Peter Andre, has been in scintillating form at club level. He's one of the few players in the local game that could step up at National League level and make an instant impact.

Alongside 'Chooky', the likes of Brenley Jefferd and the other 'chooky' Darren Hillier will push for places. Both have been loyal servants to Queensland soccer and have made a mark in the National League.

For Brisbane City, the likes of Damien Waugh and Shane Haddow have been key players in City's golden run. Waugh's scored a number of goals from the midfield and, along with Haddow, controlled City's midfield this year.

And I'll throw in a 'smoky' amongst the City boys. My fellow Dance Star syndicate member and former team mate Cameron Pearse has played well in every City game I've seen this year. Mind you, that's only three.

Throughout the rest of the league, Lions deserve some representation for their efforts so far. Their strength, as always, has been a nearly impregnable defence, led by the likes of David Lonsdale, Robbie Farrow and Jeff Lombardo.

Of the rest, Clayton Koch scored four goals for Pine Rivers on the weekend and when he's in form, Kochy is one of the best players in the XXXX League. He's probably the best finisher in the league, and that includes the likes of Kieran Cooper.

No matter what the final outcome when it comes to team selection, one thing's for certain- Queensland will once again be up against a quality side from down south and they'll rise to the challenge. ❑

Eye On Soccer Match of the Week

WYNNUM DISTRICT v BRISBANE LIONS

A promoters dream as far as writing goes, the Wolves up against the Lions is certain to be a ferocious encounter with plenty of bite, as both teams attempt to tame one another!

In all seriousness though, this is a match that both sides must win if they are to realise their respective ambitions for 1996.

After a shaky start to the year Lions are now looking towards taking out the Premiership, with just five points separating them from leaders Brisbane City. Wynnum have been comfortably in the five since the beginning of the season, but must keep winning to stay there.

Lions won't have fond memories of their first round effort against Wynnum when the Wolves produced a stunning 2-0 win at Lions Stadium.

Things have changed somewhat at Richlands since that encounter and the ever improving Lions have looked the goods following their poor early season form.

Kevin Meacock has been amongst the goals for the former National League side and Robbie Farrow has been rock solid in goal.

Wynnum have been plagued with bad luck and inconsistency this season and were yet again denied points last week when Beenleigh scored a goal against them in injury time.

The Wolves are a side that can and have caused the top teams problems this season. On their day they can defeat any side in the League.

Hefty striker Geoff Maltby has been in fine touch for Wynnum of late, having few troubles finding the back of the net and youngster Ben Wood has also found form giving coach Wayne Gracey some added options in the midfield.

Round 14's Match of the Week kicks off at 2.45pm Sunday afternoon at Carmichael Park.
